After spending more than a decade as a recruitment leader in the investment management, private banking and financial sectors, I joined Agreus Group in 2022 to lead their Singapore operations.

As Team Head for Agreus Singapore, I am focused on helping Family Offices across the Asia-Pacific find their perfect hire.

Singapore has steadily become one of the most popular jurisdictions for Family Offices with political stability, a high standard of living and various tax incentives attracting UHNW Families from the rest of the world. The sheer demand for talent has provided an incredible opportunity to work with global Family Offices from the Garden City where I live with my Singaporean wife and young family.

With an immense knowledge of both the Family Office world and the Singaporean culture, we can offer Family Offices a tailored and bespoke solution which unlike others isn't focused on specialism or industry but rather tailored to each Family Office. After all, every family is different so why should your Family Office work in any other way?

Agreus Group is a full-service resourcing and recruitment consultancy dedicated to working with Family Offices throughout the world. Since founding more than a decade ago, Agreus Group has become an established presence across the US, UK, Europe, Middle East and now, Asia.
